

CONFERENCE OF HARD COAL MEN RESUMED TODAY

Both Miners and Operators Optimistic Over Outcome of Parley.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18.—Members of the committees of the anthracite miners operators, each with a sincere wish to settle the strike, were to meet again this afternoon. Both miners and operators were optimistic and continued to hold the attitude manifested after the first conference, but both turned deaf ears to questions declaring that the joint statement was all that could be given out at present.

"Do you think it would be possible to reach an agreement today?" John L. Lewis was asked. "I cannot venture to say what we will do today," he answered. Joseph A. Gorman, secretary of the anthracite board of conciliation said:

"The statement is all I have to say at present."

Mr. Warriner and Mr. Lewis have both agreed to remain quiet about the details of the meeting until they can hold separate consultation with their committees.

OFFICERS ELECTED AT MORGAN REUNION

M. E. Morgan of this city was chosen president of the Morgan Reunion Association at the affair held by the Morgan family yesterday at Traction Park.

Other officers selected were Mrs. Leota Morgan Berry, vice president, Mrs. Artha Morgan Grose, secretary, Mrs. Minta West and Mrs. David Robert, assistants; and Mrs. Mary Morgan Fishbach, treasurer. The next reunion of the Morgan family will be held the fourth Sunday in August at Oak Grove near Morgantown.

Nearly 500 persons, members and friends of the Morgan family, attended the Traction Park affair yesterday. A fine program featuring an address by M. E. Morgan, was presented. The address of welcome was made by J. V. Blair, Fred B. Cannon sang a solo at 11 o'clock. French Morgan of Washington made an excellent address, following the election of officers.

DECLARES W. C. T. U. STILL NON-PARTISAN

"The W. C. T. U. is and has always been non-partisan" declared Mrs. J. Walter Barnes of Fairmont president of the West Virginia Women's Christian Temperance Union in a statement to the Charleston Daily Mail.

"So far from being a slate," said Mrs. Barnes, "the list of dependable candidates published in the state organ was compiled by the aid of prohibition and anti-saloon men—both Republicans—as well as reports from women over the state." "If the person who called the attention of the Mail to the alleged discrimination against Republican candidate, will take the trouble to check up on the names she will find that there are more Republicans there than there are Democrats. The whole incident recalls Artemus Ward's famous statement that 'you had better not know so much than to know so much that is not so.'"

"As to Mrs. Nina Blundson Wills, she is just the type that the good people of Kanawha County want to represent them in the House of Delegates and being a member of the W. C. T. U., she should receive the support of all friends of prohibition and law enforcement regardless of party."

The ill feeling over the endorsement by the W. C. T. U. was caused by the omission of the name of Mrs. Wills, a prohibition advocate of established reputation, and the inclusion of the name of Mrs. Tim Gates, who was a candidate for Mrs. Wills' candidacy by one of her own on the Democratic ticket.

ALL OVER BUT THE SHOOTING

GENEVIEVE WARD DIES IN LONDON

Attack of Heart Failure Fatal to Famous American Tragicienne.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Genevieve Ward, famous American tragedienne, died of heart failure today at her home in Hampstead.

Affectionately known to the theatrical fraternity as "The Grand Old Dame of the Stage," she endeared herself to millions of theatergoers in every corner of the world during the fifty-five years she appeared before the public in almost every role from grand opera to light comedy.

Great as she proved to be in mock tragedy, she was none the less remarkable for the indomitable courage with which she met and conquered genuine tragedy when it appeared in her own life. Either of two events occurring while she was still quite young might have overwhelmed a heart less stout. The first of these was an unfortunate marriage at the age of 17 to Count Constantine de Guerbal, of Russia, from whom she separated, and the second was the complete loss of her singing voice through an attack of diphtheria after her success in grand opera had been assured.

Madam Ward studied singing in Italy and in Paris making her first appearance in Paine's opera "Stella di Napoli" under the stage name of Mme. Ginevra Guerrabella.

Warmly received by Italian audiences, she continued through two more seasons before going to Paris to take the part of Elvira in "Don Giovanni." Then she appeared in London concerts where her success was striking. Born in New York, March 27, 1838, daughter of Colonel Samuel Ward and grand-daughter of Gideon Lee, once mayor of New York, Madam Ward seemed to feel in the beginning that she found more sympathy from foreign audiences, but this proved to be an illusion.

Returning to America in 1862, she made her first appearance as "Violetta" in "La Traviata." The next season she appeared in Cuba, and it was here that the attack of diphtheria brought her operatic career to a premature close.

In 1873 she returned to England bent upon trying her hand at acting and recorded an instantaneous success in her first appearance on the dramatic stage as Lady Macbeth in the Theater Royal, Manchester.

Deciding to revisit the United States, she made her first appearance on the American dramatic stage at Booth's Theater, New York, in 1878, taking the part of Jane Shore in a play by that name and following it with several Shakespeare parts.

On her return to London in 1879 she appeared in numerous roles, terminating her almost uninterrupted activities extending back forty-four years with her performance as Mr. Seabrook in "Captain Swift," although she continued to appear intermittently for the next 11 years. London, England, has been the adopted home of Madam Ward since 1900.

TARIFF BATTLE REACHES CRISIS

Final Vote on Measure to Be Taken by Senate by Tomorrow Night.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—With only two days and a night left in which to work, the Senate was faced today with a flood of amendments to the administration bill, which is to be brought to a final vote late tomorrow. Renewal of the sugar, dye and other fights which have occupied the Senate from time to time during the last four months was promised.

Advocates of a dye license embargo won on what was described as an almost complete victory last night with the approval by the Senate of an amendment providing that duties on coal tar dyes and chemicals comparable with those produced in this country should be based on American valuation.

Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, one of the chief opponents of an embargo, gave notice that he would demand a-represent vote on these duties, which represent substantial increases over those previously approved. Under the provisions of the measure as first written, the duties would have been based on foreign valuation with the President given authority to change to American valuation and to increase the duties by 50 per cent.

The New Testament was first divided into verses by Robert Stevens, a printer, in 1551.

Bachelors were taxed in England in the early part of the eighteenth century.

MINERS NOW FACE TYPHOID EPIDEMIC

Tent Colony of Striking Miners Near Uniontown, Pa., in Bad Condition.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 18.—The dread shadow of a typhoid epidemic looms over the tent colonies of striking miners near here.

Already 16 cases have been discovered in two of the colonies in the Connellsville field.

It is believed that only prompt action by health authorities prevented a country-wide spread of the disease.

Officials believe the threatened epidemic got a start when miners without funds for medical aid—used home remedies in an effort to cure the ailing.

The majority of the cases were discovered at the Palmer plant of the H. C. Frick Coke Co., and the others at Phillips, a Frick plant, three miles from Uniontown. All cases immediately were rushed to nearby hospitals.

In an effort to check progress of the disease, engineers from the state health department are correcting the supply of water, and officials of the Frick company have agreed to pipe pure water to the stricken camps. With this done, authorities predict there will be no further outbreak.

END OF RAILROAD STRIKE EXPECTED AT PARLEY TODAY

Both Sides Hopeful—New Employees Not to Be Given Seniority.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—President Harding was told today by Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, one of his advisors in the rail strike, that long distance telephone conversations with brotherhood chiefs and representatives of railroads in New York had disclosed that both sides were hopeful of a settlement at today's meeting.

Discussion of the troublesome seniority was said by the Indiana senator to be on a plan which would provide:

First—That the men who did not go on strike go to the head of the list in seniority.

Second—employees who walked out July 1 or later be accorded seniority second to the men who remained at work.

Third—that the new men taken on during the strike be given a seniority ranking below the other two groups and be retained in employment by the railroad wherever possible.

Senator Watson said that T. Dewitt Cuyler, chairman of the rail heads and leader of the executives in the New York conference, had expressed himself over the telephone early today as "quite hopeful." The senator did not disclose who he talked with among the brotherhood officials.

The developments at New York led to the belief among some members of Congress that President Harding might defer until tomorrow the address he had prepared to make the Senate and House today but White House officials indicated that up until the time the cabinet went into session at 10 a. m. there had been no change in plans.
